Now With F.M.L.

If a grin comes a bit slower among Herald staffers, you might understand after the grim process a few days ago of reconstructing the deaths of four people by drowning, airplane crash, and auto collision in a span of perhaps 24 hours.

This is what we call "hard" news. It is happenstance that tragedy would hit three times in so brief a period. There is that slim edge between playing on the baser instincts of a reading public and informing them.

Herald summary coverage, in this column's opinion, walked that razor-blade line in the issue of May 29.

NOW-NOW-NOW

I have just completed a struggle with yesterday and tomorrow. For a time, today is a winner. If I could scratch memory, I would be more sure which won.

I am frequently told by outdoor types, businessmen, and self-made people, most of whom have been too busy to read some of what I've read, that such things don't make sense.

And I say, well, insert your own experience in those vague spots and conclude what you like. Most practical people do that anyhow.

I also say (and this view scotched me with a journalism prof years ago) I write "up" to people. I not only give them the benefit of the doubt on their understanding, but I think they'll supply enough imagination to understand new words in proper context.

I quote E. B. White, winner of the 1971 National Medal for Literature, whom I quoted before a Texas House committee and audience a couple of weeks ago:

"I have always felt that the first duty of a writer was to ascend-- to make flights, carrying others along if he could manage it."

Obviously, I don't always manage it. Press association contest judges inevitably evaluate writing by some formula for general column readership. Real writing fits no formula. It is understood. It fits. I quit entering contests long ago.

Writing is communication, but it also goes down first to please the writer. This is style, individuality, creativity perhaps, unique if one is lucky.

People don't read as much as they used to, though more books are published than ever. What they read is "how to" books these days, or escape books, caught in the tide of mechanistic society.

The impractical is suspect. And I find my technical inclinations always looking to practicality.

A great deal of talent goes into television writing. And it comes out "pulp," the stuff they used to print magazines on, cheap newsprint-type paper.

Style has become movement, erudition "hip" words and catch phrases.

Style is a way of life, not committing to the confines of one's personal experience, but adapting to the flow of events which are inseparable and yet singular in life. Knowing fundamentals is only a beginning.

Journalists, I suppose, are to be specific, fact, fact, fact. But journalists may also be writers. Reflecting life and giving a brief breath of one's own inclination may defy specificity.

And so a few words fly. And if you try a little, you understand. Maybe a bit of yourself.

And that's not a small charge for a writer, to give you a little of yourself.

May Rain Tops 9 Inch Mark

READY FOR COOKOFF--Mr. and Mrs. David Westerman of Thorndale are among the early entries in the Folk Fete Chili Cookoff set for Sunday, June 8 at the National Guard Armory. The Westermans, in colorful costume, use a special Mexican recipe and won second place in the Thorndale Chili Cookoff last year.

Some Countians Report 17 Inches For Month

Rain water is standing in fields, in gutters, gardens, and yards, and still the clouds are hanging around, dumping more rain as Central Texas squishes under almost daily showers.

An official total of 9.07 inches of rain has fallen in Cameron during the month of May, which may be a record. The rainfall is that reported by the Cameron water department. Other gauges, such as that at the radio station which reports 10.15 inches, show larger amounts.

County agent Bill McCutchen said farmers in the county have reported up to 17 inches in May, including spots north of Buckholts and in the Branchville bottom.

The largest amount for a 24-hour period in Cameron was 3.18 inches recorded on Saturday, May 24. The May rainfall brings the year's total to 17.50 inches. Average is 32 inches for the year.

Grain sorghum, wheat, cotton, and other crops are also suffering from the excessive rainfall. McCutchen said the county's wheat crop, ready for harvesting for the past several weeks, may be lost if the rain continues. He said some of it is already lodging, or falling. He said the county had a "good wheat crop" with an increase in acreage planted this year.

He said only damage to grain sorghum is in low places, where some has turned yellow and may be stricken with downy mildew if wet weather persists. However, some of the fields look like hay fields, McCutchen said, with weeds taking over the grain.

Cotton, a dry weather crop, is suffering badly from the wet. McCutchen said there has been just "too much rain," and in addition to bad weed and grass problems in the fields, some of the cotton is beginning to turn yellow.

McCutchen said biggest problem in home gardens is in the tomato plants, which cannot pollinate with almost daily rains.

Summer Rec Program Opens Here Tuesday

The city's summer recreation program for school-age children will open Tuesday, June 3 with registration from 9 a.m. until 11 at the high school gym, according to Coach Roy Knight.

Coach Jon Forsythe is summer recreation director and will be assisted by Coach and Mrs. Knight, and ten youth from the CTCOG Manpower work program.

The actual program will start Tuesday morning as children are registered. Ages for the program are from 7 through 12 years.

The four week program includes volleyball, softball, washers, horseshoes, tennis, shuffleboard, pingpong, roller skating, and others.

There will be games tournaments each Friday along with roller skate races, Knight said.

Folk Fete Parade Shaping Up

The parade Saturday for this year's Folk Fete should draw large crowds as a wide variety of entries have signed up and others were expected before the day.

Mrs. Leo Fuchs, chairman of this year's parade, listed entries which range from floats, bands, and clowns to pure "fun" entries which always add spice to the yearly event.

Entrants will begin assembling for the 10 a.m. parade at 9 a.m. on Main St. from the First Baptist Church and on North and South College Street.

Grand marshal for the parade will be Mrs. Katharine Johannis of KCEN-TV

Temple. Honorary marshal will be A. W. McCullin, director of the Community Development Agency.

Cars will bear Mayor Gene Blake, Police Chief Felipe Martinez, Sheriff Carl Black, and the Cameron Volunteer Fire Department will have two units in the parade.

Special recognition for Cameron winning the Governor's Beautification award will be in the "Cameron Is No. 1" car with Mrs. Perry Holder and Mrs. Ruth Rosson.

To date 12 floats have entered including the Folk Fete Queen Float sponsored by the Arts and Service league. The floats include out of town entries from Georgetown, Bartlett, and Rogers.

Bands will include Yoe High, Der Rhine Steins, and Vrazel Polka Band. Arrangements are pending for a band and color guard from Fort Hood.

Other entries include new cars from local car dealers, farm equipment, decorated cars from several businesses, several clowns, decorated bicycles, numerous "fun" entries antique cars, saddle clubs, and a unit from the Department of Public Safety recruiters.

Mrs. Fuchs said entries are still being accepted.

There will be a reviewing stand on the mall with Johnnie Barrett as announcer. Judges from neighboring towns will be located in the stand. Immediately after the parade, the trophies will be presented at the reviewing stand.

Trophies will include: out-of-town entries, local entries, clowns, decorated bicycles, most "fun" entry, entry coming the greatest distance, and a "surprise" appreciation trophy.

Immediately following the presentation of awards, Folk Fete Inc. and the Ladies Committee of the Cameron Chamber of Commerce will host a social hour with refreshments at the Chamber meeting room for dignitaries, honored guests, and out-of-town parade entrants.

Other members of the parade committee are Milton Wright and Dana Kestenbaum.

Youth Work Program Offered For Summer

A summer youth work program will get underway in Milam County starting June 2 for low income youth ages 14 through 21 who are either out of the public schools for the summer or are planning to return to college in the fall.

The youth will be assigned work at non-profit agencies, such as city, schools, courthouse, and hospitals. They will work 40 hours a week.

The program is one of the Central Texas Council of Governments and will be handled through the CTCOG Manpower office in Cameron with Mrs. Patricia Epperson in charge.

Mrs. Epperson said the county has had 77 positions designated, with perhaps more as the program unfolds. They will work in Cameron, Rockdale, Milano, and Thorndale areas.

In the Cameron area, she said, ten youths will be assigned to work in the city's summer recreation program, four at St. Edward Hospital as lab and dietician aides, five at Newton Hospital as aides and in maintenance and yard work, four at the Cameron Housing Authority as clerical and maintenance aides.

Also, one clerical aid at the CTCOG office, one library aide, five maintenance aides at the Buckholts school, one teacher aide at the Gause School, three clerical aides at the county courthouse, some as maintenance aides at Cameron schools, and aides to the Cameron community Development Agency.

Designations for Rockdale, Milano, and Thorndale will be for similar positions.

Mrs. Epperson said applications are being taken now at her office on the third floor of the courthouse.

Police Chief Resigns

Police Chief Felipe Martinez has resigned his position effective Friday, May 30. Martinez said he has an opportunity for other employment. No other reason for the resignation was offered by city officials.

Spanish Ballots Create Create Howl

A requirement in Texas that ballots be printed in Spanish as well as in English in localities where there is a population of five percent or more of Mexicans, is creating quite a howl throughout the state. Waco County Commissioners discussed the subject last week in thinking about asking for a ruling from the attorney general on the constitutionality of such a requirement.

Picketing Private Home

Henry's plan to open a tavern in a suburban neighborhood raised the hackles of nearby residents. One afternoon, several men showed up at his house with protest signs and began to picket. Equally incensed, Henry went to court for an injunction against this "intrusion into my private life." At the hearing, the picketers insisted they were mainly exercising their right of free speech. But the court sided with Henry and issued an injunction. "The home is a retreat from outside affairs," said the judge. "When the right of free speech is weighed against the right to privacy, the balance favors the privacy of the home."

Courts generally have concurred in placing a high value on the home as a privileged sanctuary from strife.

Nevertheless, residential picketing has sometimes been allowed under special circumstances such as the fact that the occupant of the house is a public official. Thus, the picketing of a governor's home by a civil rights group was upheld in court. The judge said the picketers "had a legitimate right, protected by the Constitution, to appeal to those in authority for redress."

And the picketing of a landlord's home by disgruntled tenants was sustained on the ground that he had no other known headquarters where they could vent their feelings.

Of course, even if picketing itself is considered lawful, it may still be condemned because of the manner in which it is done.

In another case, the home of a hospital executive was subjected to mass picketing by boisterous marchers. Furthermore, they flaunted signs that were plainly libelous. This time, a court held the picketing unlawful.

"Conducted at a considerable distance from the hospital," said the judge, "in a residential area, it was apparently aimed to cause humiliation and mortification to (the victim) and his family. It represents a form of direct and unmitigated coercion, a foul blow."

Pull The Blinders....

We're glad to see some action on the Yoe Gym, though it has been condemned by earlier architects. It is apparently sound enough to salvage. It is of course cheaper to remodel that large a structure if the main levels and walls are useful.

We're glad to see it will be done on bid basis. It is argumentative to review whether or not the field house was or wasn't a bargain with the school board acting as contractor.

But bids should be taken on any public project as a matter of form. Public bodies like school boards, city councils, county commissions aren't expected to include expertise in contracting, subcontracting, and engineering.

The Herald has raised the question before on public projects. It is probably not the last.

We hope the gym will supply the minimal needs of a physical education program for girls and boys on the campus. And we hope the 3,000 square feet of new science class rooms is enough soon enough.

The whole concept of a one-campus school is becoming remote as Cameron spreads out and fills in with additional housing around its city limits.

School officials may want to re-examine getting additional acreage elsewhere for an additional school site.

The one campus idea is already broken with the mid-school at OJT. There is no reason obsolete buildings should continue to be remodeled just because they are at Yoe Campus.

It is this kind of blinder that had kept other elements of the Cameron area behind. It is time to pull the blinders off.

Futuring Folk Fete....

Folk Fete is setting off for its sixth observance next weekend in Cameron, beginning with a beauty contest Thursday night, followed by three days of activities.

New events include what is becoming a heralded event, the Folk Fete Thorou-ghbred Armadillo Race, and a Chili Cookoff, among traditional events like dances, bands, costumed area entertainers, ethnic foods, parade floats, on into the weekend.

This is becoming identified as a Central Texas event and by the time the electronic and print media finish with it, it will indeed be seen as a Central Texas event.

We thank those hundreds who join the Fete board of directors in making the event what it is becoming: a lot of fun, even if interpretations vary on what is fun.

Folk Fete is an extraordinary lesson for metropolitan areas and college campuses in social organization. Every person of every persuasion finds something of him or herself in it.

This community has created something unique. Not the largest event, though it is growing. But it is a study in people year after year, revitalizing this area with something of their past, something of their talent, something for the future.

Folk Fete is one reason Cameron and the Milam area have a real future.

Shippers Cautious About Suez

By Lionel Walsh

LONDON Reuter - The reopening of the Suez Canal on June 5 is bound to have a major impact on world commerce and shipping as confidence builds in the security of the waterway.

But for the time being, the international shipping community is cautious about the canal for two reasons -- fear of renewed hostilities in the Middle East and of the physical hazards that may still remain as a legacy of war.

The 14 remaining vessels, flying the flags of eight countries, that were trapped in the great bitter lake after the 1967 Arab-Israeli war, are now being removed.

They are, in the words of one maritime insurer, providing a "dress rehearsal" for the opening of the canal to international shipping.

The head of the Suez Canal Authority, Mashour Ahmed Mashour, proclaimed earlier this month, "The canal is now the cleanest waterway in the world."

United States, French, British and Egyptian warships assisted in mine-clearing. More than 40,000 explosive objects have been removed from the canal, and more than 750,000 land mines were found along its banks. At least 15 people were killed in clearing operations.

Insurance experts in London acknowledge that everything humanly possible has been done to make the canal safe for shipping.

Yet shippers and insurers are conscious of risks in an area which is within range of Israeli guns, and which has been fought over twice in eight years.

Discussions have been going on among London underwriters of a special war risk premium for shipping in the canal.

The chairman of Lloyd's Underwriters, Havelock Hudson, said in Stockholm earlier this month that ships using the canal may have to face much higher insurance premiums than world rates for "non-hazardous cargo."

"Considering the thousands of explosives that went into the canal, the fact that the Israelis are only 15 miles from it, and that there is no permanent peace in the Middle East, there is the ever-present risk of a catastrophe," he said.

Another factor that will influence use of the canal is the way shipping has adapted itself to other routes since 1967 -- and the development of big container ships and supertankers.

Most of the world tanker fleet is now too big to pass through the canal with full cargoes.

Before 1967, oil comprised about 70 percent of the cargo channelled through Suez. Yet according to a South African estimate only between 20 and 30 percent of the world's oil carriers could now use the canal when fully laden.

So until Egypt has carried through its ambitious plans for widening and deepening the canal, most oil traffic will continue to use the Cape of Good Hope route around southern Africa.

At first, the canal will be able to take ships of no more than 40,000 loaded tons, two-thirds the size it could handle before the June war of 1967.

Over the next eight years, Egypt plans to widen and deepen the 100 mile long canal so that it can take ships of up to 250,000 loaded tons.

Meanwhile the Suez Canal authority can offer enormous savings in time, distance and therefore cost to smaller tankers and dry cargo shipping -- providing the dues are made sufficiently attractive.

There will obviously be a big saving for shipping between the Mediterranean and Asian ports. For Black Sea ships heading for the Indian Ocean or the gulf, the voyage will be 10,000 miles shorter than via the cape.

European shipping bound for the far east can save 10 days by using the canal -- an economy that becomes even more attractive in these days of soaring fuel costs.

So far, the Egyptians have said only that toll rates will be highly competitive, although they are likely to be appreciably higher than in 1967 because of world inflation.

The exact rates are to be announced by the canal authority this weekend. For shipowners they will be a key factor in deciding whether to use the canal.

Yet whatever the commercial advantages, the mood of caution remains strong.

Several shipowners interviewed in London spoke of the danger of a new outbreak of hostilities between Israel and the Arab states causing shipping to be trapped again in the canal.

One nightmare is that not just one convoy -- as in 1967 -- but two travelling in opposite directions, could be trapped in another Middle East upheaval.

PCA Annual Meeting Set At Bryan

More than 500 farmers, ranchers, and guests from a six-county area are expected Tuesday, June 3, for Production Credit Association's annual meeting in Bryan.

Horace P. Dansby, Jr., PCA president, said registration begins at 10:30 a.m. at the Lakeview Club on FM 974. Business topics and a meal follow.

High on the meetings featured list will be election of three directors by the stockholders.

Mike Davis, vice-president and secretary of the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank of Houston will speak on the present economic and agricultural situation. The Houston bank is the source of most PCA loan funds.

Main business items include a report from the board of directors and the association's financial report.

A western band will provide entertainment.

Bryan PCA has members in Brazos, Burleson, Grimes, Madison, Milam, and Robertson counties.

Mysterious Lines In Peru Still Baffle The Experts

A curious marking more than a mile long etches the desert in southern Peru. Wandering mule paths that cross it only emphasize the precision of its angular design.

Throughout hundreds of square miles of arid plateau, other marks abound, most of them concentrated between the towns of Nazca and Palpa. Viewed from the air, the lines appear as complex geometric designs, or as flowers and giant creatures--birds, reptiles, whales, a monkey, and a spider.

Found on Pottery

"Because some of the figures resemble those decorating Nazca pottery, archeologists attribute the lines to the Nazcas, a coastal people whose culture rose, flourished, and declined between roughly speaking--100 B.C. and A.D. 700," points out Loren McIntyre in the May National Geographic.

Nobody really knows why the ancients constructed the lines. There have been many guesses--that they were prehistoric roads, farms, or some form of signals or offerings to celestial beings. One far-out theory speculates that some of the markings may have guided visitors from outer space.

A 1968 study, financed partly by the National Geographic Society, ascertained that some of the lines to point to solstice positions of the sun and moon in ancient times, as well as to the rising and setting points on the horizon of some of the brighter stars.

But, the study indicates, this is no more than could be expected by chance.

"Making the marks must have been simple enough, though time consuming," Mr. McIntyre explains. "Clear away a few million rocks to expose the lighter ground beneath them, pile the rocks in rows, and you have designs that, in this nearly rainless region, can last thousands of years."

Surveyors have been astonished at the straightness of the lines, stretching for miles, crossing valleys and traversing hills, never swerving from their courses.

Scorns Spaceman Theory

For more than 25 years, Maria Reiche, a 72-year-old German mathematician, has photographed and charted the lines, striving to complete a map of the hundreds of designs and figures that score a tableland some 30 miles long. Another National Geographic Society grant now aids her work.

Miss Reiche scorns the suggestion that such markings may have been airfields for outer-space visitors to earth in prehistoric times. "Once you remove the stones the ground is quite soft," she says. "I'm afraid the spacemen would have gotten stuck."

There's a good chance, however, that the lines will still be saved for future generations of spacemen. Through Miss Reiche's efforts, the Peruvian Government has allotted $23,000 to preserve the lines.

"I would like to see a viewing tower erected near the Pan American Highway," says the scientist, "so that visitors will not be tempted to walk on the lines. I used to direct people to the sites. Now I direct them away, before all the ruins are ruined."

Alcoa Announces Transfers

A pair of transfers were announced this week at Aluminum Company of America's Rockdale Works. John O. Hendricks, construction accounting manager, will move to Alcoa's Wales,

Great Britain, plant as construction accounting manager for a major expansion project there. Ronald M. DeLuca, senior environmental engineer, will move to Pittsburgh to join Alcoa's corporate environmental engineering department.

D. A. (Denny) Zundel will replace Hendricks as construction accounting manager at Rockdale Works. Zundel is presently in a similar capacity at Alcoa's Lafayette, Ind., plant.

Law Named To Board Of Advancement

BELTON C. R. Law of Route 1, Cameron, has been elected a charter member of the Board of Advancement of Mary Hardin - Baylor College.

The Board of Advancement is an extension of the College Advancement Office of MH-B and is composed of persons throughout the state and nation.

Members of the board are responsible for representing the college to their various publics, encouraging financial support of the college, personally contributing to the development program of the college and encouraging prospective students to attend MH-B.

The board will meet annually on campus to review the progress of the college and make plans for future development projects.

Now retired, Law was active in the Tax Assessor-Collectors Association for 43 years. Law has lived in or near Cameron for nearly 81 years. He has served three times on public school boards and nine years on the MH-B Board of Trustees.

Law has been a farmer, cowman, shepherd and tax collector. He now says, however, that his "greatest desire is to serve others and especially Mary Hardin-Baylor College."

McCall, Button Named Directors

Dr. Abner V. McCall, Waco, and W. G. Button, Dallas, were named directors of Texas Power & Light Company at a stockholders meeting in Dallas.

At the meeting, Charles W. Wooldridge, who had been chairman of the board, retired as an officer and director. He will continue in a consulting and advisory capacity. A new chairman was not elected. In other action, Stephen S. Swiger was named treasurer and assistant secretary, and Gary L. Price, Dallas, was named assistant treasurer.

NEWCOMER--Dennis A. Zundel, construction accounting manager at Alcoa's Lafayette, Ind., plant has transferred to the company's Rockdale Works in a similar capacity. The Washington State University graduate joined Alcoa in 1969 and served at facilities in Davenport, Ia.; Kingston, Jamaica; Tennessee, and Pennsylvania prior to his Lafayette assignment.

CARL WALSTON

Bamberg, Germany Army Private Carl N. Walston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles N. Walston, 1902 Redbud, Rockdale, is assigned as a construction specialist in the 82nd Engineer Battalion here.

Seniors Offered Free Park Entry

On June 2, persons 65 years of age and older are eligible for free entry to state parks in Texas.

The 64th Texas Legislature recently passed an act which gave such persons access to parks without paying an entrance fee.

Parks authorities at the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department are prepared to issue a "State Parklands Passport" to those 65 and older who can verify their age. A driver's license, birth certificate, military discharge papers, or other suitable identification must be presented to verify both the age and identity of the individual at the time the passport is issued.

Passports are available at all state parks where entrance fees are charged with the exception of Copano Bay, Port Lavaca, Queen Isabella Causeway, Eisenhower Birthplace, Longhorn Cavern, San Jose Mission, and Varner

Hogg Plantation State Parks. The passport also will be issued at P&W Austin Headquarters in the John H. Reagan Building, room 108. A holder of a State Parklands Passport will be admitted to a park when the windshield sticker passport is displayed or a Parklands Passport registration receipt is presented. All persons riding in the vehicle at the time of entry will be admitted free of charge in accordance with the legislative action.

Hunt Deer Lease Early

Unless you plan to hunt on your own land, hunting wild game in Texas means having a lease.

The November 15 opening day of deer season in most counties might seem like a long way off but now is the time to hunt for a lease, according to officials at the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department. Finding a deer lease requires initiative, money, some luck, and good timing.

A good way to start your search for a lease is by talking to people who already have leases. They can give you an idea on the part of the state and type of hunting which might appeal to you, whether it is for trophy bucks in the South Texas Brushlands, mule deer in the Trans-Pecos or the smaller but more abundant Hill County deer.

Through your friends you might find a group which need an extra hunter. But take your time before accepting; a hunting lease represents a considerable cash investment. Make sure that you are getting a good return on your dollar in recreation. And just as important, make sure you are getting safe and pleasant hunting companions.

"The Texas Almanac" is a good source of information about the state. Each county with good deer hunting is mentioned under the section on recreation. County maps are included.

After selecting some possibilities, write to the chambers of commerce of the county seats where you would like to hunt. In most high-deer population areas of Texas the chambers maintain lists of landowners who accommodate hunters.

Check the want-ad sections of the larger state newspapers and Texas magazines. Visit the areas which have possibilities. Find out what type of lease is offered. Leases generally fall into four categories: day hunting, year-round, limited duration, and guided hunts of a few days.

Does the lease include hunting for species other than deer? Is there fishing? What kind of shelter is available? All of these factors will influence the lease price as much as the amount of game Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials say that they can be of little help in finding leases. P&W deer kill estimates are kept by county and do not reflect the amount of game on any ranch. And since leases are income to ranchers, the department cannot make recommendations for private contracts.

Most local Soil Conservation Service offices have aerial photos which might be of value in determining the type of land and vegetation to be expected. Find out who hunted the lease before. Ask them what they liked and disliked about the area. Since leases grow more expensive each year, put the contract between yourself and the landowner in writing.

Cowgirls

Named To Hall Of Fame

Two Texans and an Arizonan, all recognized for their ability to ride, have been named as the first inductees to the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame, Hereford.

Jackie Worthington, Jacksboro, Alice Greenough, Tucson, Ariz., and the late Sissy Thurman, Bryan, will be enshrined in a $800,000 facility to be constructed at Hereford.

Mrs. Worthington, a founder and past president of the Girls' Rodeo Association, won 23 rodeo championships. She was bullriding and cutting horse champion seven times and won the all-around title six times.

Mrs. Greenough, known as the "queen of the saddle bronc riders", comes from one of rodeo's most famous families. Her brother, Turk, also was a standout in saddle bronc riding. After a colorful career that took her around the world Mrs. Greenough entered stock producing for rodeos.

Killed in an automobile accident in 1968, the late Mrs. Thurman served as a GRA director for seven years. She was runner-up five times for the world championship in barrel racing and still holds the record for the fastest time in the National Finals Rodeo.

Boosters Elect Officers, Directors

The Yoeman Booster Club met recently and elected new officers for the coming year.

Leroy Doskocil was elected president; L. W. Turner, vice-president; Roselee Mondrik, secretary-treasurer.

Elected to the board of directors are I. N. Hughes, Rufus Floyd, and Bertie Shumate.

Jubilee Days

Rodeo Set At Rockdale

A parade through downtown Rockdale featuring trail riders from six area towns will kick off the three-day Jubilee Days Rodeo at Rockdale June 5.

Henry Davidson, rodeo chairman and a member of the Rockdale Roping and Cutting Club which sponsors the event, said trail riders from Gause, Milano, Lexington, Cameron, Thorndale, and Salty will journey to Rockdale on that day and ride through town at 5 p.m. June 5.

The Jubilee Days Rodeo will begin that night and continue for three nights at the Fair Park arena, Davidson said.

The best lease is a written one because it spells out conditions of the lease for the protection of both parties and prevents misunderstandings. Every lease should contain what is leased, name of parties, size, and boundaries; terms of lease, payment and when to be paid; duration of lease; who is to hunt, and game fish, birds, and varmints which may be taken.

The landowner should also specify what services or facilities are included in the lease. Consider who will provide blinds, cabins, and utilities, and doe permits.

A written lease, when properly acknowledged, can be recorded in the county records and is binding to the landowner should he decide to sell his property.

A good lease is one where the hunter and landowner become good friends.

Hearne Coach Looks To Season

In looking ahead to the 1975 football season for Hearne, Coach Bob Davis, new head coach and athletic director, feels that teams in District 23AA will perform about the same as they did in the 1974 season with Cameron most likely leading the group. Westlake, Hearne and Caldwell also have good chances to capture the title, the way it looks now, he said.

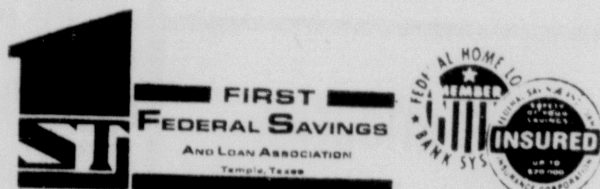

Hearne has a possible number of 21 returning lettermen for next season's team.

It's your money. You should get the most for it.

DENTAL FACTS

The first recorded reference to dentistry is a Babylonian cuneiform inscription from about 2,000 B.C., exorcising the "tooth-worm," which was believed to be the cause of dental decay until as late as the 18th century.

In the 18th century full sets of dentures were carved by goldsmiths, who set human or animal teeth in an ivory base. The human teeth were sometimes obtained from corpses by body snatchers.

The cost of false teeth was brought within the reach of most people in 1855 when Charles Goodyear made the hard rubber compound vulcanite, which was used for artificial dentures.

The toothpaste market currently amounts to well over $300 million per year in consumer sales - more than double its size in 1955.

A Polish scientist, Dr. Jadwiga Pawlowska, discovered in the early 1950's that the chemical stannium chloride has a desensitizing effect on hypersensitive teeth. The safe, non-toxic compound that blocks the stimuli that causes the pain of dental sensitivity is now available in the therapeutic dentifrice Sensodyne.

More than 500 oral diseases, abnormal conditions and oral manifestations of general disorders can wreak havoc in the mouth. Surveys indicate that tooth decay and periodontal diseases affect an overwhelming majority of people in all parts of the world, to the extent that they may be regarded as continuous worldwide epidemics.

There are an estimated 500,000 dentists in the world. Some areas have only one dentist per million people. In the United States there is one per 2,000 inhabitants.

Yoe Senior Receives Band Award

Lynn Willy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth G. Willy of Cameron, was awarded the John Philip Sousa Award Thursday, May 22, at the annual band spring concert presented at Yoe Stadium.

The Sousa award is given to the outstanding senior band student voted on by the students of the band, and is given in memory of the "March King", John Philip Sousa, for his band influence in America.

Lynn Willy, receiver of the first John Philip Sousa Award, was praised by Jerry Bartley, band director, for her hard work and leadership as head twirler this school year.

She was presented a lapel pin, a desk paper weight, and a wall certificate. Her name will remain in the band hall on a wall plaque which will list the winners of the Sousa award.

The John Philip Sousa Award was started in Cameron this year by Jerry Bartley.

Add Storage In Bedroom

A long, low bank of cabinets along a window wall may be the answer to a bedroom lacking adequate storage space.

A pleasing application combines a window seat with counter-high cabinets flanking the window. A fold-up seat allows access to storage under the window level.

When space is tight, narrow, adjustable shelves of 1x10-inch western pine or fir boards can accommodate a variety of items, including hats, bags, shoes and other accessories.

For storage of infrequently used items, cabinets can be hung on the walls, extending from the ceiling down about two feet.

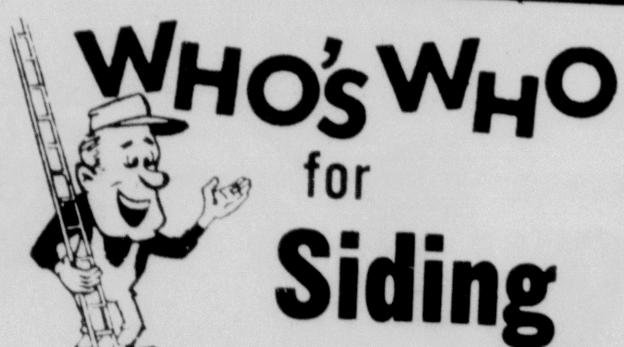

Troup Visits

Junior Girl Scout troop #403 visited KMIL radio station. Many thanks to Gene Smithman for the grand tour and the interview over live radio.

College Notes

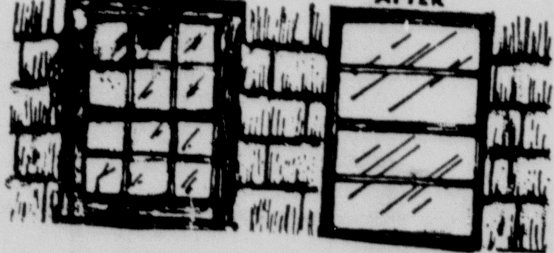

Attending Prairie View A&M June 2 for summer school are Mrs. Frances Brown, a sophomore, and her sister, Miss Brenda Lattimore who is a graduate working on her Masters degree.

They are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. James Lattimore of Cameron.

LELY SOUTHWEST INC. AND ITS BUSINESS ASSOCIATES AND RELATIONS IN CAMERON
SALUTES THE PEOPLE OF CAMERON WITH THEIR 6th ANNUAL FOLK FETE

LELY ROTERRA

FASTER, BETTER CROPSTANDS
LESS TRIPS... LABOR... FUEL

Cost-conscious Ohio farmers are saving up to 3 field trips; preparing up to 200 acres per day; earning $5 to $15 more per acre; and improving their soil structure with less compaction, less erosion and better moisture...all with the same machine. The LELY-ROTERRA!

It's unique, contra-rotating tines puts flexibility and durability where it does the most good. Look at the ways it can add to your 1974 farm income.

PREPARES SEEDBED

Crumbly soil along its natural lines, the LELY-ROTERRA speeds through the field at speeds up to 7 m.p.h. to give a perfect seedbed in just one trip. Working behind the disk or chisel plow, its contra-rotating tines overlap to cover every inch of soil in the machine's path leaving behind a fluffy, moisture conserving, firm seedbed.

BETTER INCORPORATION

The LELY-ROTERRA is the most outstanding machine available for precise, high-speed chemical incorporation at recommended depths because of the overlapping whirling tines and precise working depth control on the Depth Control Roller. Eliminates need for double disking in most operations.

DESTROYS STALKS

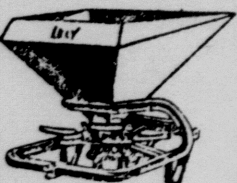

The LELY-ROTERRA zips through corn, wheat, soybean and other grain stalks leaving it well-pulverized for complete decomposition and planter follow-up. There is less soil compaction because the trash is mixed with the soil giving it a "spongy" quality.

DOUBLE CROPPING

A LELY-ROTERRA is the best "middleman" you can have in your double cropping program. It lets you go from one crop to another in less time...with less trouble...and with less expense. With planters mounted behind the LELY-ROTERRA, you eliminate excessive soil-compacting and time-consuming field trips. Germination is improved. Savings are increased.

Overseeds And Fertilizes More

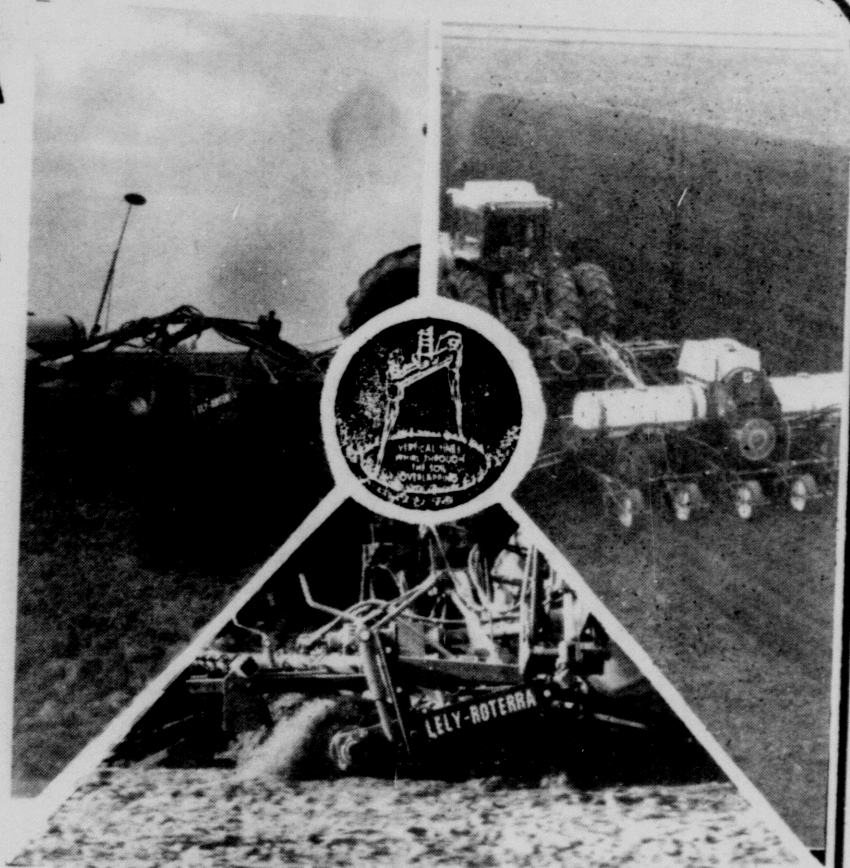

Acres
Than Any Other

When it comes to overseeding-and fertilizing for spring grains and pastures, more Ohio farmers turn to the Lely broadcaster/seeder than any other. The reason is simple! Fast, accurate, low-cost coverage. The familiar red Lely broadcaster/seeder lets you be the boss of your fertilization/seeding program. It overcomes the bottleneck of overworked trucks and inclement weather. This spring, see your local Lely dealer for the one tool that pays season after season and proves to be cheaper and faster than a grain drill. Or write us for the name of your nearest Lely representative.

Lely's exclusive centrifugal force feeding system gives unequalled accuracy up to 52'. And with fertilizer in scarce supply and prices increasing as much as 40%, accuracy becomes the all-important aspect of broadcasting.

The Lely broadcaster/seeder does away with all "ifs", "ands", and "buts". Results in higher speed, less waste, better results.

Fete Preserves Customs

Cameron and vicinity is unique and, especially favored, in having several ethnic groups settled here.

Early in Texas history, hostile Indians occupied this land; but when a series of missions was established and there was a peaceful climate many settlers, Southern, Czech, German, Irish, Mexican, Italian, Negro, and pioneering cattlemen saw the Little River and Brazos valleys with abundant water and fertile soil and made this their permanent home.

Little remains of some nationalities, their only identification being the name but it is not unusual on a holiday or Sunday to hear groups speaking Czech, Spanish, German, intermingled with the slow drawl of a Texas cowboy.

To preserve, and renew some of the customs of the "Old Country", Folk Fete has been created. The aim is to make the native dances, foods, and perhaps some of the customs a permanent part of our culture.

Folk Fete had its beginning June 12-13, 1970, with the cooperation and enthusiasm already demonstrated by Cameron and neighboring towns, it has become an annual celebration, comparing in attendance and scope with any other celebration in Texas.

The first Folk Fete was created by a group of interested citizens headed by Miss Mildred Thornton and Mrs. Perry Holder. The first year's fete was held in the City Park with programs at Yoe Field and a tour of historical homes.

The Fete has grown since then to a three-day affair, or four-day, counting the queen's contest held on the Thursday before the fete. This year a marathon will be run on the weekend before the Fete, but will be counted as part of the festivities. Other new events include a chili cookoff, armadillo race, bicycle race, and a community sing-along scheduled for the mall starting at 11 a.m. after the parade. Several musical groups will be featured in this event.

In other years, the Fete has also featured a tour of historical buildings in the city, including churches, blacksmith shop, and hardware store. Lovely guides were in force to conduct the tours. This year there is no tour, but a full schedule of activities is planned from 7:30 p.m. Thursday, June 5 until 10 p.m. Sunday night, June 8.

Features of the annual Folk Fete change from year to year, but the original flavor is maintained by ethnic foods, native dances, and music.

Johnny Barrett heads the publicity committee and chili cookoff; Regina Woodum, Folk Fete Queen's Contest; Charles Hundle, entertainment; Clarence Hanel, food and drink; Mrs. Leo Fuchs, parade.

Milton Wright, parking and security and electrical; Janice Turner, personnel; Sherrian Hobbs, information and first aid; Marguerite

There will be three kiddie rides for the children.

Ethnic Dancers Featured For Three-Day Festival

Entertainment for this year's Folk Fete includes a pretty wide variety of music and dancing, with something for everyone.

There will be German, Mexican, Negro, Czech, Irish, and modern dancers, with appropriate music.

First dancers on the program for Friday night at 7 p.m. inside the National Guard Armory are the Hoedowners, a square dance group from Harker Heights, who will "Swing yore partners" through some intricate footwork.

On Saturday at 2 p.m. and again at 4 p.m., a Mexican dance group from Round Rock will add their colorful costumes and dance to the evening's festivities.

At 5 p.m., Cameron's own German Folk Dancers will "put your little foot" in a round of polkas and other native dances which have won them wide acclaim.

They will be followed at 6 p.m. by the Seaton Youth Club Dancers from the Seaton SPJST, who will perform native Czech dances.

More Czech dances will be provided at 8 p.m. by the Beseda Dancers of Seaton SPJST.

On Sunday, modern dancers come in for their share of the fun as a group of Black Modern Dancers perform at 12:30 p.m.

Another dance group will perform at 1:15 p.m. as the Ethnic Studies Dance Group from Temple go on stage.

At 4 p.m., another group will perform Irish dances along with some lively folk music.

Don't Miss Folk Fete
June 6-7-8

Community Sing
Planned On Mall

The Folk Fete Community Sing-Along will begin immediately after the parade at 11 a.m. Saturday morning, June 8, at the Cameron mall. Rev. and Mrs. Darryl Profitt are co-chairmen of that committee and they have listed some of the following features of the program:

Children's choir from the Evangelical Brethren Church at Buckholts;

Combined choirs from the combined Cameron Negro churches;

Solos and group participation in familiar songs.

Everyone is invited to the program and if the sun gets too hot, trees at the courthouse next to the mall, will provide shade.

Trophies Await Winners Of Armadillo Races

Trophies are awaiting the winners of the first "Thoroughbred" Armadillo Races set for this year's Folk Fete on the armory grounds Sunday, June 8, at 1 p.m.

The prizes will be awarded to first and second places for the youngest armadillo handler and the entry traveling the greatest distance to the race.

This contest should prove to be one of the most entertaining of the whole Fete, with wild armadillos running every-which-way and handlers trying to keep them on course.

Entries will be accepted up until noon Sunday and all entries should be at the armory by 12 noon, according to race officials. An entry fee of 50 cents will be charged.
